

SRA Cookie Policy

Last Updated: July 1, 2019

This Cookie Policy describes how and why the Society for Research on Adolescents (“SRA,” “we,” or “us”) uses cookies, web beacons, pixels, clear gifs, and other similar tracking technologies (collectively, “Cookies” unless otherwise indicated) on our website or applications, however accessed (collectively, the “Site”). It also explains what Cookies are and your choices regarding Cookies.

Through your continued use of our Site, you indicate that you agree to our use of Cookies as described in this Cookie Policy.

What are Cookies?

Cookies

A cookie is an element of data that a website can send to and store on your browser or device. A cookie is useful for having the browser remember specific information across several pages or between visits to a website.

Other Tracking Technologies

Other tracking technologies work like cookies by placing small elements of data on your device. Those include:

Web Beacons or Clear gifs

Web beacons, which are also known as clear gifs, are small graphic images or web programming code that may be included in our Site’s pages and can track the actions of the visitor on that Site page.

Embedded Script

An embedded script is a programming code that collects information about your interactions with the Site such as the links you click on. It is only active while you are on the Site and is deactivated or deleted thereafter.

How do we use Cookies?

We use Cookies on our Site to identify you and track your use of the Site, remember your preferences, enable advertisement delivery to you, enable certain Site functions, and perform analytics.

We use both session and persistent Cookies. Session cookies are temporary and last only until you close your browser. Persistent cookies remain on your device until you delete them. We also use both first and third-party Cookies. First party Cookies are those that we use and control in order to provide our Site and the goods and services on our Site. Third party Cookies are controlled by third parties, mostly for advertising and analytics.

More specifically, our Site offers the following category of Cookies:

Strictly Necessary Cookies

These are Cookies that are necessary to the operation of our Site to provide the services and features you request. These Cookies allow us to recognize that you have created an account and to authenticate you. These Cookies help us prevent fraudulent activity on our Site and help us secure our Site. They also enable functionality such as our Site's shopping cart. We do not need to obtain your consent to use Strictly Necessary Cookies.

Analytics and Performance-Related Cookies

These Cookies assess the performance and use of our Site. We may utilize third-party service providers to create these Cookies on our Site, such as Google Analytics cookies. These Cookies may track the number of visitors to our Site and what Site pages are most frequently visited.

Functionality-Related Cookies

These Cookies enhance the functionality of our Site by remembering the choices you have made such as your user name, language or region you are in, and allow us to customize the Site to you.

You can set your browser to notify you when you receive a cookie, giving you the chance to decide whether to accept it. Browsers may also be set up to display a warning when a cookie is used. You may even disable your browser from accepting cookies. In order to provide you with the best possible experience while visiting our website, please enable cookies within your browser. Some portions of our website may not function properly if cookies are disabled.

Advertising Cookies

These Cookies are used to deliver relevant ads to you. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an ad as well as help measure the effectiveness of ad campaigns. Third-parties may use Cookies on our Site to deliver relevant ads to you or remember you and deliver relevant ads to you or third party websites. They remember that you have visited a website and this information is shared with other organizations such as advertisers.

How you opt-out of Cookies.

You may decide whether you want to accept Cookies or not. We explain in more detail below how you can exercise that choice.

On your Internet browser you can adjust your settings to reject some or all Cookies or to alert you when a Cookie is placed on your device. The "help" feature on most browsers will provide you more information on how to do this. For more help with adjusting your Cookie settings, please see www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies/. Please note that if you choose to block all Cookies (including Strictly Necessary Cookies), you may not be able to access or use all or parts of our Website and/or parts of our Site may not function properly.

If you want to delete previously stored Cookies, you can manually delete them at any time. Doing so will, however, prevent the Site from placing further Cookies on your device unless and until you adjust your browser settings.

For more information on the development of user profiles and the use of targeting Cookies, please see www.aboutads.info/choices in the United States and www.youronlinechoices.eu if you are located in Europe.
